FOREWORD

JOHNNY PHILLIPS

We, the Senior Class of 1958 cordially invite you to accompany us as we travel through our school days on what might be termed the "secondary road" of life. It is our belief that the comparison between student and adult life, and that of a "secondary road" and a "main highway", is very similar. In high school we travel a somewhat sheltered path, and only after four years of study and preparation in the ways of the outside world do we finally emerge into the fast moving traffic on the highway of life.

Within the four short years we spend at Cradock, we come in contact with many forms of Citizenship. From these forms we must learn and practice until we are ready to take our places in the community. We practice good sportsmanship at football games, where we sit side by side with adult members of our community. At basketball and baseball games our conduct is displayed before the public.

Handling the matters of self-government we have the Student Cooperative Association, which is made up of elected representatives from the student body. Through this vital organization, we, the students, have the chance to aid the administration in conducting school affairs. Also, under the S. C. A., there is a system of clubs through which we learn the fundamentals of "socializing" and serving in a group capacity. From these, and similar activities, we feel that we, as future citizens of our community, state, and nation, have become better equipped to travel safely along the highway of life.

TRAVELING THE HALLS OF CRADOCK

Dedicated to. . .

With deep admiration, we, the Senior Class of 1958, dedicate our "Admiral" to Mr. Vernon Barnes. When we began our high school days he, too, was a newcomer and now, with us, will leave Cradock's halls. Whenever assistance was requested he was ready to render a helping hand. He stood firmly behind anyone in the right, and discipline was his watchword. Cradock High School and the students who have known him will never forget Mr. Barnes and to the Class of 1958 he will remain forever among our most cherished memories.

SCHOOL BOARD

Although we as students seldom have the opportunity to meet the School Board, they are always behind us and ready to help in any situation. An example of this was the two days that school was closed because there were too many absent due to the flu. This not only helped the students, who were sick but it gave the other students a holiday.

The members of the Board are as follows: Charles E. Russell from Western Branch, H. C. Paxson, Jr., who is one of the Assistant Superintendents, H. A. Hall, Jr. from Pleasant Grove, E. H. Everton from Deep Creek, E. W. Chittum, the Superintendent, S. N. Sawyer, the Clerk, B. M. Williams from Washington District, M. C. Alford, the Supervisor of Education, H. C. Barnes, the other Assistant Superintendent, and A. E. Roach from Pleasant Grove.

MESSAGE

The school year of 1957-58 is now history. Herein is your written record — a pictorial account of pupils and events, a reminder of time, effort and energy invested, a proof of the fine spirit, loyalty and cooperation which exists between students and faculty.

We look forward with keen anticipation to the unfolding of the Cradock High School story as it appears on these pages.

I wish to highly commend the staff and faculty advisor on this production of

Homecoming

Homecoming KING and QUEEN, Ray Cox and Joan Spear.

Hampered by rain, and a postponed game, the Cradock High School 1957 Homecoming, which still managed to be a huge success, honored the classes of 1932, 1942, and 1952. The Homecoming Parade was squeezed in between two large rain showers and proved to be one of the best Cradock has had since the first Homecoming back in 1948.

The PTA for the first time sponsored the Homecoming Banquet and the largest turn-out for a school banquet was present. The crowd was estimated at being close to five hundred persons. After the banquet, however, the Alumni were told the bad news that rain had cancelled the football game and dance.

On the following Monday night, Queen, Joan Spear, and King, Ray Cox, were crowned at the half-time show of the Oscar Smith-Cradock game . . . Cradock won 26-18. The awards were also presented to the best floats that were in the parade. The winners were the Art Club, the Dramatics Club, the GAA, and the Job's Daughters.

Plans for the Homecoming, however, began long before the actual date, with Earlene Whitehurst and Joan Spear chosen as co-chairmen for the big day. The two girls were in charge of selecting persons to serve on various committees and were to see that everything was going smoothly. Everyone did a wonderful job and the Alumni will be the first to say so.

John Loves Mary

One of the funniest comedies ever to have been staged at Cradock was presented on December 5, and 6 before a crowd close to 1,200. The play that was such a success on Broadway and in the movies was also a smash with the adults and students. Having the lead roles were David Spivey and Marcy Wilkins.

One of the brightest spots in the play was the appearance of Monroe Duncan and Earlene Whitehurst who made their parts into characters who had the audience continually laughing. Others in the cast were Al Biddle, Ray Cox, Tommy Perry, Karen Belding, Lee Smith and Tommy Cooper.

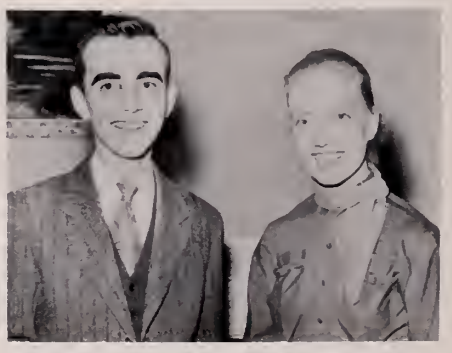

The play was judged on Thursday night by Norfolk County dramatic coaches. On Friday the Best Actor Award was presented to Al Biddle and the Best Actress Award to Marcy Wilkins. Both Biddle and Wilkins have won previous awards. Director for the play was Mr. William Sindlinger who was assisted by Miss Margarette Miller and Miss Cora Mae Fitzgerald.

Armed Forces Day

Cradock girls get a glimpse into the future.

They can smile now, but in a few years . . .

Cooking (a major part of life) holds everyone's attention.

The First Armed Forces Day at Cradock was presented in the fall of '57. The day was a huge success with the boys and girls alike. For the boys, there were representatives from the Air Force, Army, Navy, Coast Guard, National Guard, and the Marine Corps. They spoke on the regulations, recruiting, and duties of being in the Armed Forces. After a joint assembly, there were individual discussion groups in which Cradock students could ask questions.

For the girls there was a demonstration of the stoves of the future. They were shown the different functions of the new stoves and how to use them. The girls learned how to cook food in less than three seconds and it still be as tasty as ever.

Mr. Sindlinger and his guidance staff should be commended for their efforts in presenting our first Armed Forces Day.

Waiting their turn to speak.

Back To School Dance

"That'll Be the Day," "A Whole Lot of Shaking Going On," and "Teddy Bear,"—those were some of the songs heard on September 13th. The occasion was the annual Back to School Dance sponsored by the Student Council.

The music had seniors and freshman alike, "really hopping," and naturally the wearing apparel was Bermuda shorts and Ivy League caps. To make the dance even more of a success the seniors were entertained by the Freshmen, who sang the Alma Mater, did jigs, and smiled "pretty" while the Seniors applied lipstick to their frightened faces.

There were features such as dancing and singing contests to add to the color of the dance. The chairmen for this second annual Back to School Dance was Tommy Perry.

SPORTS

FOOTBALL

Led by a strong offense the Cradock Admirals finished one of the strongest teams in the state. The Admirals started off the season being heavy underdogs to one of the Eastern District powers, Warwick. However, the Admirals got off to an early lead and were never headed as they won 32-27. The following week Cradock took the road to the western part of the state to meet the team that won the Western District championship, Andrew Lewis. The Western team was held scoreless as the Cradock eleven rolled, 7-0.

Suffolk entered the second home game for the Admirals with an unimpressive 0-3 record and the misfortune of having 87 points scored upon them and having scored 0 points. It was a dull game as Cradock easily won 18-0. When the Granby Blue Comets came to Cradock Stadium, it was a different story for the Admirals. Instead of leading the entire game Cradock had to come from behind twice before they could win 18-13. Jimmy Moy lead the Admirals in the first Cradock win over a Granby eleven in six years.

Oscar Smith was counting on damping the Cradock Homecoming gala ceremonies. The Tigers trailed only by one point at halftime 13-12 but in the second half Cradock pulled away to win 26-18. Maury, a team that had been beaten by Cradock only once in history, looked as if they might stop the Admiral winning streak by leading at the half 13-0 but the Admirals came storming back and won 19-13.

When Cradock took to the road they were in for three long weeks as the Admirals lost three games in a row. The Cradock eleven couldn't get their offensive attack off the ground as they scored only one touchdown in these three games. The scores were Princess Anne 13-7, Norview (Eastern District Champion) 9-0, Churchland 13-0. The latter was the game that really hurt worst of all.

In the final game of the season on Thanksgiving Day the Admirals were very worried as they were scheduled to meet a team that had scored 48 points the week before. The Cradock team drilled on defense all week expecting an all out Halifax County offensive attack. But, when Turkey Day rolled around, it was a different story as the Admirals found the Western team's offense and defense were far below their expectations. The Admirals found themselves on the winning side of a lopsided 41-7 score. In this Holiday game all of the Admirals shone forth, but the Most Valuable Player award went to the top touchdown receiver in the state, Tommy Cooper.

Cradock also had the top touchdown passer in the state, Jimmy Moy who threw for 14 touchdowns (tied the record). The Admirals, coached by Larry Weldon, placed two men on the All-City, End, Tommy Cooper and Guard, Joe Huneycutt. Cooper, also, placed on the second team of the All-Tidewater. All in all, it was a great football year for the Mighty Admirals from Cradock.

WRESTLING

For the first time since Cradock High School entered Group One in 1949 the athletic department added wrestling to the school's sports "menu." The coach for the wrestling squad was a teacher at Cradock Elementary School, Mr. Richard Frate.

In sports it takes a few years to get to the point where you can offer real competition and this was the problem that faced the Admirals, they couldn't match the experience of other squads in the Eastern District. However, the outlook is good for next year since the large percentage of the squad returns.

Some of the leading wrestlers for the Admirals were in the 114 pound class: Darryl Toler, 120—Benny Kendricks, 129—Floyd Parker, 140—Bobby Adams, 135—Randy Jones, 147—Thomas Harrington, 156—Billy Strickland, 167—Joe Huneycutt, 177—George Odom, and in the heavyweight class—Johnny Underwood. Of these players, all return but two seniors.

The Admirals were lucky in having one experienced player on the squad and that was a Granby High School transfer — Benny Kendricks. Benny was out part of the season due to injuries suffered during the post-game wrestling. The top wrestler for the Cradock team was a junior who had no previous experience, Floyd Parker. Parker was the only matman who constantly won. Johnny Underwood is considered as a great prospect for next year.

BASKETBALL

Cradock High School's basketball team finished with an impressive record. Their results were superior to those of past years. Coach Mac Eure and his crew opened the campaign with an impressive win over Great Bridge. In this game Jimmy Moy and "Merkie" Carroll stunned the Wildcat defense scoring 18 points each.

As the Admiral five entered their third game against Princess Anne High School, they found themselves heavy underdogs since the Cavaliers were considered to have a strong bulwark. Cradock easily crushed the Princess Anne team 78-60. Playing his first game as a regular, Tommy Odom proved himself a top notch scorer as he bagged 23 points. Odom made the All-Tidewater Player of the Week Team for that performance.

Leading the Admirals in offense were "Merkie" Carroll, Jimmy Moy, and Tommy Odom. Carroll was considered one of the best cagers in the Eastern District. Cradock was one of the top offensive teams in the district and one of the poorest defensive teams.

Coach Mac Eure has great hope for more improvement next year since he has his big two aces, Odom and Carroll returning. He has two freshmen showing great promise, Wayne Waff and Larry Weldon, Jr. Both of these freshmen should develop in the next year or two.

Playing their last games in a Cradock uniform were, Jimmy Aydlette, Ivan Thompson, "Chop-Chop" Moy. All in all, the Cradock five has much to be proud of. It was a highly successful year.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

After making a long sweep around right end, Komer is sandwiched between two Maury players.

In order to have a successful sports season a team needs a good coach and Cradock's J. V. had two fine coaches, Jack Benzie and his assistant Ray Cox, last year's varsity quarterback.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

As in past years, Cradock had a very strong Junior Varsity Basketball squad. The coach for the Ensigns was a new comer to Cradock High School, Mr. Jack Benzie. Coach Benzie is a graduate of our closest rival, Wilson. Captain for the Little Admirals was Paul Rollins, who was on the squad last year.

The Baby Admirals, besides having an impressive record, had a reputation for having a thrill a minute in their games. Every game was close and full of suspense until the last moment when the midget sized Cradock team would usually pull a rally.

Captain for the fighting Admirals, Paul Rollins.

The Junior Varsity Head cheerleaders: Paula Werz and Bennie Cahoon.

JUNIOR-VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders had a squad of ten very able girls this year. Three were Freshmen and Seven were Sophomores. The girls led the cheering for the Junior Varsity Football team and the Junior Varsity Basketball Team. Everyone worked very hard to make this school year a very successful one sports wise.

The girls were led this year by Paula Werz and Bennie Cahoon.

"Up," and "in" is the way Betty Cross makes her many baskets.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Alright girls, let's hit that volleyball "a country mile."

The girls learn sports not as popular as baseball or basketball such as hockey . . . and they're good, too!

In order to play table tennis you must be calm and very alert and these girls are just that.

They want to make a homerun and they make plenty of them, along with their triples. Sometimes, they do make a basehit . . . sometimes.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Co-Operative Association began its work long before school opened to set up plans for the coming year. They gave a pre-school tea for the Cradock teachers. To really get things started this year, the Student Council gave a "coke" party for the teachers.

The Back to School Dance was a huge success this year. The Council sponsored the sale of Activity Tickets as well as giving Service Awards to deserving students.

The objectives for the year were:

1. To Review the Constitution and review the powers of the Council to prevent usurpation.
2. To keep the student body better informed.
3. To promote better behavior at all school functions.
4. To have better committees.
5. To better the relationship between, S.C.A. and P.T.A., Student Council and student body, S.C.A. and the faculty, and student body and community.
6. To promote better citizenship through:
 a. Safety
 b. Care of the building

For the first time Cradock had an Orientation class for freshmen which was taught by members of the Student Council. During Orientation Week freshmen learned the rules of the school and how our student government functions and the purpose of the student government.

A Citizenship committee was formed of students and faculty members to prevent vandalism at Cradock. This committee sponsored a Clean-up campaign to beautify our school.

The Student Council held a leadership training class for all homeroom and club officers. Color Day was sponsored by the council in January to promote school spirit. In order to continue the work of the council the Beauty Contest was held during the spring. Many assemblies were sponsored by the council to better acquaint the students with the many functions of this organization.

Career Day, Back to School Night, College Day and Night were functions assisted by the S.C.A. In December Cradock was host to the Tri-C Federation. At the end of the year members attended the Tri-C Banquet at which the winner of the Tri-C scholarship was announced.

Marcy Wilkins, President of the Student body, has served on the Student Council for four years.

The Student Council during the school year participates in many assemblies. Here we find a skit on how to promote better school spirit at sports events.

Miss Elizabeth West, sponsor of the Student Cooperative Association, has had much experience in student government. She has also served as sponsor of the Tri-C Federation for the past three years.

MATH CLUB

Due to the technological advancement in the world today the nation is demanding people trained in the fields of mathematics and science. There must be a genuine interest in these fields in order to get the necessary training. Stimulating this interest by co-curricular activities will be one of the main purposes of the Math Club.

The club was organized under the leadership of Mr. Herbert Harlow. It was his idea to organize a club on the High School level similar to the Math Club at V.P.I. We are backed and co-sponsored by the other members of the Math Department who are Mrs. Phoebe M. Richardson, Mrs. Geraldine Jackson, and Miss Mary A. Gallagher.

Our membership is limited to advanced math and science students, who have a sincere interest in math and who have a "C" average in their mathematics courses.

The main purpose of the Bible Club is to create more interest in the Bible and to witness for Christ throughout the school.

Some of the goals we accomplished were:

1. Having "T" Day.
2. Put Christian Magazines in the school's library.
3. Put catalogue of Christian Bible Colleges in the library.
4. Had Christian films shown to the student body.

This year we had a new sponsor of the club, Mr. Fred Farriss, who is well-experienced in the World of Christian education since he is preacher at Biltmore Church.

AIMS AND PURPOSES:

To provide the club members with a means of learning of vocational opportunities in the field of distribution.

The 1958 Admiral Staff is proud to present their yearbook with the "new look." By this we mean a new format, which is the first change in the order of the contents. Ours is the first annual to have multiple colored pictures and more thorough coverage of the school's organizations and activities. We wish to thank everyone for his cooperation and help in getting our Annual together. We sincerely hope that everyone enjoys this year's annual and that you are as proud of it as we are.

THE SHIPMATE STAFF

The Shipmate crew was all new this year—from the sponsor, Miss Jane Hix, and editor, Virginia Osborne, down to the cub reporters.

But somehow, the 25 members of the journalism class mastered the intricacies of off-set layouts, electric typewriting and hand-set headlines. The printing presses this year were located at the Administration Building in Great Bridge and members of the staff made the trip once or twice a month to set headlines and give the paper final touches before releasing it to Mr. Ben Gray, in charge of reproduction.

Once again, the Shipmate was represented at the annual Southern Interscholastic Press Association at Washington and Lee University in Lexington. It also sent staff members to a Tidewater scholastic press conference sponsored by Norfolk newspapers at Princess Anne High School.

An inquiring reporter feature, complete with candid photographs of students, "Periscope of Sports", "Aunt Lulu", "Archie's Observations", "Klub Korner", and "Junior Hi-Lites" were among the columns students developed during the year.

THE LOG

The Log is Cradock's literary magazine. It was originated to serve as an outlet for the creative writing talents of the students. It features short stories, poems, essays, features, etc.

The magazine is almost entirely the work of the staff. They finance, type, correct, layout, illustrate, correlate, and distribute. It is a tremendous job to put one of these magazines together and all of the work is done outside of class.

There are two issues of the Log published annually, one during the winter and one during the spring.

One of the most important things the band does every year is to enter the Eastern District Music Festival and this year the band played grade six music which is the most difficult grade of music written for bands.

OUR CLASS HISTORY

As we look longingly back to our early high school days, it seems impossible that only four short years ago, we entered the portals of Cradock for the first time. As freshmen, in September of 1954, we were very proud and a little cocky because at last we were in high school! That didn't prevent our knees from knocking—just a little, and they knocked even harder as we walked into the vast center hall of the brand new Cradock High School.

After the first few days of trial and error, frequently consulting extensive floor plans and horrifyingly realizing we were in the wrong classrooms, then throwing ourselves completely on the mercy of those "learned" guides, we settled down to enjoy our high school days. We didn't feel too badly about our mistakes because we saw with surprise and relief that the upper classmen were having the same problems—even the mighty seniors! Hmmmmm, they must have been human too.

It wasn't long before we had our feet under us, and as soon as the seniors had thoroughly convinced us that we were RATS of the lowest type, we organized our class and elected Joe Bryant, president; Marsha Wilkins, vice-president; Sandra Breon, secretary; and Joan Spear, treasurer. Our "guiding lights" were Mrs. Rhea Carter and Mr. Larry Weldon. Our first S.C.A. representatives were Joe Bryant, Marsha Wilkins, Joan Spear and Gail Page.

We enthusiastically plunged into all activities including band, chorus, dramatics, clubs, dances and sports. Eager to have our talents recognized by upper classmen, we worked furiously on the Freshman-Sophomore Dance.

As sophomores, we lost some of our awe of the massive school and the upper classmen, and dug in to try to make a name for ourselves. We had able assistance from our sponsors, Mrs. Bruce, Miss Sedgewick and Mr. Spessard, and our officers, Joe Bryant, president, Marsha Wilkins, vice-president; Sandra Breon, secretary, and Bill Harris, treasurer.

Our class prestige rose a little higher when Joe Bryant was elected S.C.A. treasurer and Albert Biddle was selected best actor of the fall play, "Time Out For Ginger". We were especially proud when our own Gail Page was chosen Miss Cradock and Sandy Poe, Maid-of-Honor. Who says sophomores are next to "low man on the totem pole"? Our Freshman-Sophomore Dance was a huge success, and as we concluded our second year of high school, we were sure that Cradock was beginning to see that here was a class of "live-wires"!

In our Junior year, we reached near perfection (we thought so, anyhow). All fears were gone and we had developed a great love and tremendous loyalty for our school. We also began to realize just how unimportant those lower classmen were. Leading our active class were: Joe Bryant, president; Marsha Wilkins, vice-president; Jimmy Moy, secretary; Bill Harris, treasurer, with Mr. William Sindlinger and Mr. Allan Mandel as our able advisers.

We had great plans for our Junior-Senior Dance and "gave our all" to the project. It was a smashing success and has been called the nicest Junior-Senior Cradock ever had. (This is not just our opinion, either.) We even made the seniors happy!

As always, we had enthusiastically participated in all school activities, doing our utmost to make Cradock the best. We ordered our class rings, and dreamed of our senior year which was now "just around the corner". We applauded our Ginger Wildman, the new Miss Cradock, Marsha Wilkins and Joe Bryant, best actress and actor of the fall and spring plays, "Drums of Death" and "The Robe". Marsha Wilkins and Arlene Maxson were elected president and secretary of the S.C.A., and Marcy made history by being the first girl president in fifteen years.

Then, suddenly, we were seniors! With our return to school in September, 1957, a feeling grew within us—a feeling that had had its beginning when we slipped our bright, shining new rings on our fingers—the feeling that THIS WAS IT, the very last chance to serve our school and to enjoy the gay, carefree happiness of unpredictable teen-age stunts! We were also vitally conscious of the fact that we were now school leaders and that all the other classes looked to us for guidance. Of course, we carefully hid our new "motherly" attitude during the first few weeks to plainly show all "inferior underclassmen", especially those wretched freshmen, that we were all-powerful and would remain so, unchallenged! Perhaps our memories of three years before had something to do with that.

We soon took on a more serious outlook and chose as our pace-setters: Ralph Early, president; Bill Harris, vice-president; Joan Spear, corresponding secretary; and Jimmy Moy, recording secretary. To Mr. Noble Moore fell the almost impossible task of "juggling" the books, and the all-important adult guidance was ministered by our beloved Miss Byrd.

The new Annual staff, led by industrious Al Biddle, set about to prepare a yearbook that Cradock High would never forget. We bounded into all school programs with an eager determination to end our reign with an outstanding record. We ordered cards and announcements, "watched the birdie" and silently said "cheese" as we smiled for the photographer, elected our senior superlatives, sold advertisements and ordered our caps and gowns.

One-by-one the events slipped away—Freshman Week, the Back-to-School Dance, Homecoming, Thanksgiving Game, where more than a few tears were shed when the band struck up the final Alma Mater which ended the football season, the Fall Play, College Day, Christmas, Basketball Season, announcement of Valedictorian and Salutatorian, Baseball and Track, the "wild" senior class play—"Paint the Town Pink", the Miss Cradock contest, Baby Day, the Senior Banquet, the S.C.A. Elections, and, finally—Exams. In all of these, we supported our school to the limit and did our very best to raise school spirit, ideals and standards to an all-time high.

We were a lucky class, for we were the first to complete four years of high school in the new building, and with us ended an "era". We saluted Joan Spear and Ray Cox as Homecoming King and Queen, and honored Marsha Wilkins and Albert Biddle as best actress and actor of the fall play, "John Loves Mary".

The closing days of our senior year were the gayest, and our hearts were full of wonderful, never-to-be-forgotten memories during the Baccalaureate and Graduation ceremonies. It was hard to realize that we wouldn't always be a part of Cradock High. As we stood together for the last time, we knew that now we were approaching the first milestone on the long road toward adulthood, and we felt an all-consuming pride and gratitude for the school that had so honorably tried to prepare us for the stormy sea upon which we would sail in search of happiness and success.

Cradock had been more than just a school; we had spent four years of our lives within its walls and it had been the instrument which helped to mold our young minds. Time can never erase the sports, the music and dramatic events, the assemblies, the interscholastic rivalry in competition, the clubs, the school projects and plans, the "Shipmate", the "Admiral", the "Log"—all of the big moments and eagerly-awaited events. Nothing can ever dim the magic we shared together. As we held our diplomas close, for reassurance, and squared our shoulders to look toward the future, we were glad that we had remembered to tuck a handkerchief into our pocket. And, so, as we passed through the door for the last time, we lovingly and fervently said,

"Cradock, you're the greatest!"

CLASS SONG

Julie Larkin and Ralph Early

A song unfolds before us
recalling memories dear;
From Cradock we've gained knowledge,
truth and guidance ever near.
As on life's road we travel,
our thoughts begin to roam,
We think of days behind us
and of joys and friends we've known.

Now the time has come to part
Our eyes are toward the blue.
We look not to the past,
for we have new goals in view.
The gates of life are opened with all our spirits high,
The future waits before us,
Our second milestone nigh.

OUR VOYAGE

Facing the sea from a small point of land
Wearied, uncertain, amazed we stand
On our path which has winded to its end.
Time now for our maiden voyage to begin.

Though the sea be rough and the winds be high
We falter not, when the time draws nigh
We launch our ship at the setting sun
And with the morn' our past is done.

So with childish thinking left behind
We stand, unafraid, our future to find.
We're ever seeking knowledge new,
For we have a greater task to do.

President Charles Porter

The Junior Class under the capable leadership of the officers had the makings of one of the best classes at Cradock. One of the biggest accomplishments was the setting of the dues at $3.50 and collecting them. The sponsors: Miss Cannon, Mr. Benzie, and Mr. Mounie helped the class in the selection of Prom Chairmen. It wasn't an easy task picking them but Donna Wiggins and Sandra Marks were given the job. Another big and important accomplishment was the setting up of the committees and planning the date of the Prom. Planning to sell autograph books and the ordering of our class rings were also great features of our Junior Year.

The Junior Class of '57 and '58 had a hard working spirit and accomplished much. We hope next year, to be even better and accomplish even more.

Class Officers: Vice-President Marion Carroll, President Charles Porter, Secretary Benny Kendrick, Treasurer Bobby Spence.

Homeroom President: Charlotte Jones, Mary Bolen, Jerry Davis, Marion Carroll.

Junior-Senior Prom Chairmen: Nancy Pritchard, Donna Wiggins, Sandra Marks, Warren Wood, Judy Stalls, Lynn Rush, Donald Caffee.

Class Sponsors: Mr. J. Benzie, Miss J. Cannon, Mr. J. Mounie.

Waiting for the day to begin.

Our Homecoming Representatives were Sandra Jones and Ed Ellis. The Sophomores also gave $75 to the Seniors for a page in the Annual.

Class dues were set at $1.50 to finance our Freshmen-Sophomore Prom which was held April 19, from 8:30 to 11:30 P.M. The Prom was decorated beautifully around the theme, Star Dust.

All in all, the Sophomores say, "the year 1957-58 couldn't have been better."

FRESHMEN

This year, we the Freshmen, entered the halls of Cradock to begin our high school days. We were very much in awe of the upperclassmen, especially the Seniors. Some friendly Big Brothers made us feel very much at home in our new surroundings.

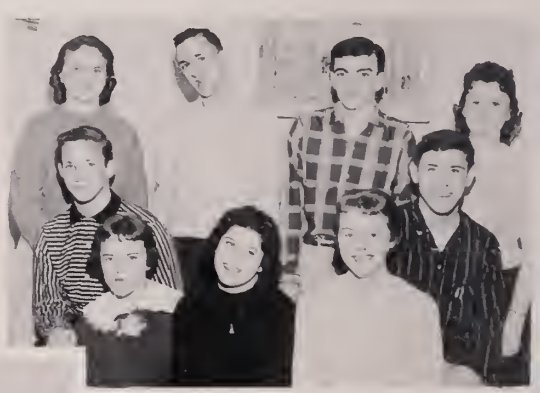

In our first week as Freshmen we were honored at a Back to School Dance. The girls wore aprons and the boys wore tee shirts and ties.

The main objective of our class this year was to have the Freshmen-Sophomore Prom. Stardust, the theme, was a big success. Our dues were $1.50 and $.25 for our page in the Annual.

Though this year has passed quickly, we know we have three more wonderful years at Cradock.

Class Officers: Secretary Shirley Hayes, President Judy Simms, Prom Chairman Nellie Houston, Vice-President Buddy Hornick, Reporter Doug Shields, Treasurer J. R. Wilburn.

CRADOCK ALMA MATER

We raise our voices now to greet thee,
Our school, our Cradock High
Many thoughts are ever with thee
To remain and never die.
Days of value always linger
In memories long gone by
Our love for you grows ever deeper
As we strive for goals so high.

Once again we stop to greet thee
March Onward, Cradock High!
It is to you we give the glory
Of all the things we try.
We count it gain that we have known thee
And as the years go by
Your spirit will remain within us,
Our unconquered Cradock High.

BROADWAY ON REVIEW

SPRING SPORTS

CRADOCK BURIES MAURY

The Cradock Admirals had a fairly good season winning more than they lost. The nine pulled the upset of the season when they stopped extremely powerful Granby. The big let down was the first loss to Woodrow Wilson High School in years—you can't beat 'em all the time. The Cradock nine had the district's top slugger in Sonny Komer who batted well over—575. The Admirals were in the Summer League.

Coach Larry Weldon, once a pitcher for the Portsmouth Cubs, shows powerful Sonny and Barry techniques.

Coach Weldon signals to his senior ace, Creamer Scarborough.

The pitching department: Herbert Davis, Matt Matthews and Jim Moy.

Billy Strickland crouches for the pitch.

Cradock High School had two of the district's leading hitters in Norman Ryder and Sonny Komer. Komer won the district's batting title. Only once in eight weeks did Sonny not hold the highest average.

Brilliant pitching was given by Matt Matthews and Herbert Davis.

Sonny shows the proper slide.

TRACK

Off they go. Speedy George Meiggs may break another school record.

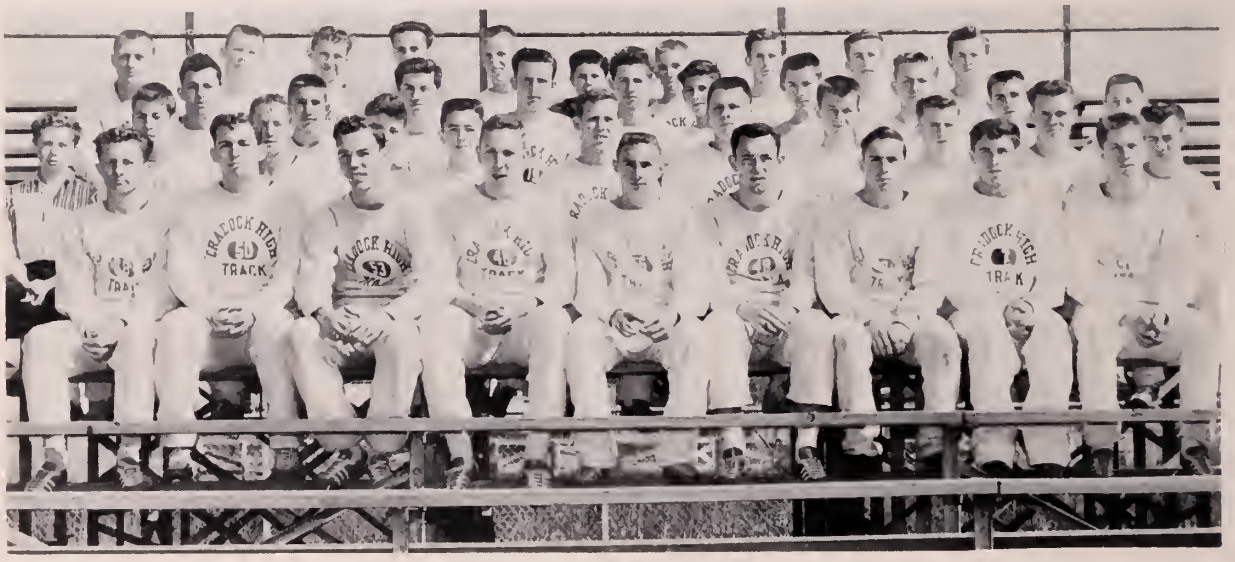

"Wait until next year" could have been the cry of the Cradock track squad. For there were only three seniors on this year's squad, Joe Huneycutt, George Meiggs and Syd Smith. Meiggs was the school's champion runner. He broke the school mile record.

Promising underclassmen for next year are, Jackie Lawson, Kenny Dice, Larry Tucker, Johnny Underwood, Martin Vick and a host of others. Marion Carroll, who is not pictured above because he joined the squad late, was outstanding in jumping and broke a school record.

Up goes Nickey Morgan.

W. Holton, J. Lawson, N. Morgan, S. Smith, George Meiggs who set a school record, B. Gingas, B. Hornick, K. Dice. Second Row—J. Jones, R. Harrell, C. Stewart, T. Thomas, G. Gee, F. Crouch, J. Underwood, M. Vick, J. Jones, B. Forrest, R. Gould. Third Row—J. Leinback, J. Atwood, J. Woods.

Co-captains George "Sprint" Meiggs and Syd Smith talk with coaches, Mr. Reggie Byrd and Mr. Jack Benzie.

This was the final year for the track squad under the coaching of Mr. Reggie Byrd. Coach Byrd is studying for a degree. The tracksters have been coached by Coach Byrd for the past four years and have enjoyed tremendous success. Replacing him will be this year's assistant track coach, Jack Benzie. This was Benzie's first year at Cradock.

Kenny goes over while Freddie and Syd watch on.

And who needs wings?

Jackie Lawson heaves the shot put while John and Carl watch.

SENIORS ROUT FACULTY

It took the Senior Class of 1958 to break an old tradition at Cradock. For years the Seniors would always come out on the short end of the Student-Faculty Game. As this year's twin bill began it appeared that history would repeat itself with the Senior girls falling to the scrappy Faculty girls. However, when the High School boys met the Faculty boys, it was a different story; for the Faculty was no match for the magnificant performance of the Seniors. Outstanding student players were, Betty Cross, Mary Wiggins, Tommy Cooper.

Cager Wiggins shoots. Does she make it?

"Hotshot" Edwards and Miss Hill tangle over the basketball.

Anything goes.

"Flashy" Smith lays up for another 2 points while the faculty looks embarrassed

Mrs. Brooks prepares to shoot while those amazing Seniors, Wiggins and Watson, do a brillant job of guarding. Miss Cannon waits for a tricky relay.

Top-seeded Barnette and Spence at a practice match.

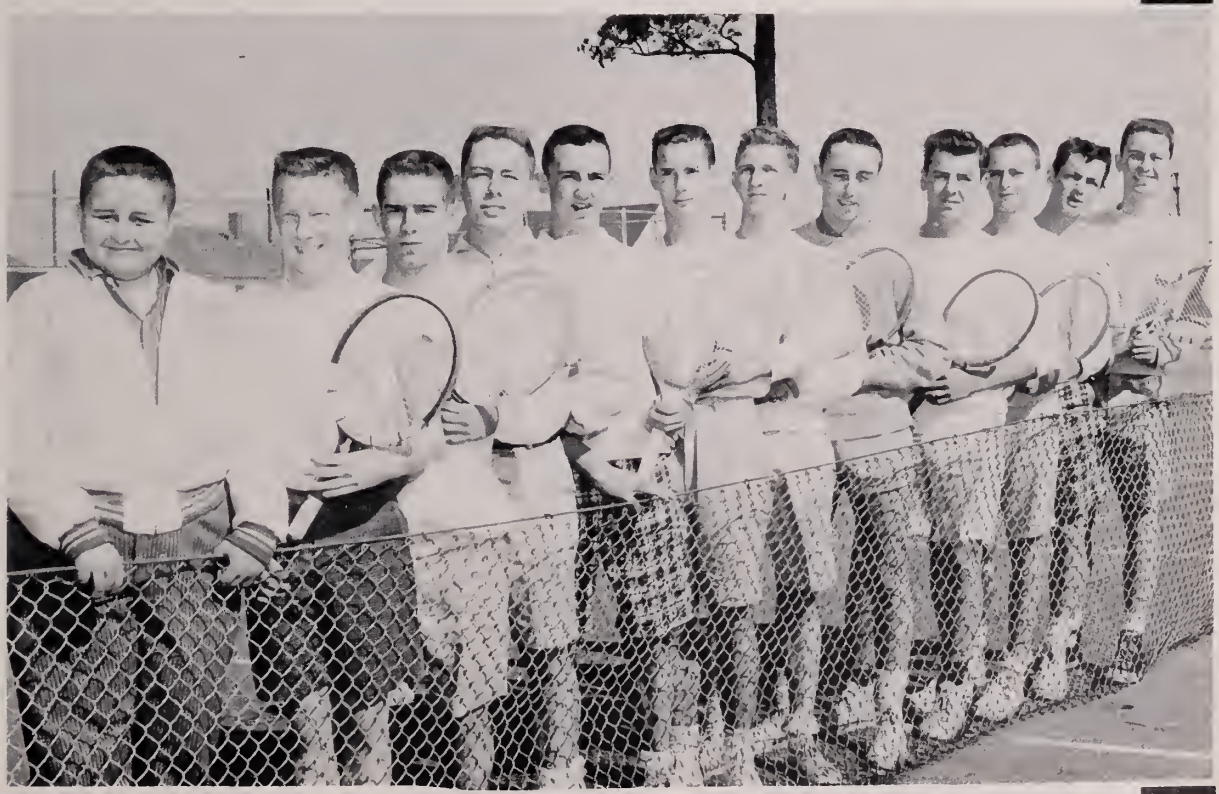

TENNIS

Coach Jim Mounie gives lesson to one of the tennis team, Warren Wood.

Lack of needed experience was the problem of this year's Tennis Team. The top ace of last year's sensational team either graduated or were unable to play. This year's team was young and should prove powerful next year. Bill Harris was the standout along with Ralph Early who won the Most Valuable Player Award. Mr. Jim Mounie was the netter's coach.

Cradock Tennis Team, J. Bacon, E. Ross, C. Porter, B. Spence, O. Smith, C. Appell, F. Davis, M. Gratton, R. Early, C. Barnette, C. Perdue, W. Wood.

BABY DAY

PAINT THE TOWN PINK

The Seniors of 1958 presented a fun-filled hour and a half of entertainment with their Senior Play, on April 18th. Awards were presented to Best Supporting Actor and Actress, Monroe Duncan and Julie Larkin. Best Actress and Actor were Gail Page and David Spivey. Other outstanding performances were Mildred Taylor, Nina Carter, Mary Wiggins, and Mickey Mixon.

Monroe finds himself in hot water as the students paint the town and Miss Lawton pink.

Teachers-for-a-day have a brainstorming session.

Front row—S. Poe, B. Davis, R. Creamer, M. Taylor, J. Boone, N. Carter, S. Smith, W. Smith, T. Harrington, W. Murden, P. Ried, J. Moore, D. Tilley, W. Hood, R. Salas. Second Row—M. Mixon, P. Hodges, S. Sawyer, J. Larkin, F. Ayscue, L. Spain, T. Hassell, M. Duncan, D. Spivey, G. Page, J. Leinenbach, W. Atwood, L. Mason, M. Wiggins, A. Maxson, L. DeAlba, J. Spear, T. Cooper.

CAREER DAY

Like most young men Larry and LeGrande are interested in their future with the Armed Forces.

"Career Day" was a popular day at Cradock with guest from all occupations. Service representatives from the Army, Navy, Maines etc. Business and Nursing were very popular with the students.

Mr. William Sindlinger was the faculty director.

Nursing is one of the most popular vocations for young women today.

More students receive data from Staff Sergeant Adams.

GRADUATION

The Commencement speakers: Marcy Wilkins, Ralph Early make the welcome, Earlene Whitehurst, Monroe Duncan, and Pat Hodges.

On June 1 in the Cradock auditorium the Baccularette services were held. The guest speaker for the religious program was Rev. Cline from Portsmouth.

The graduation was held on June 6 at 8:00 in the auditorium with 178 seniors graduating. Leading this class in grades was Pat Hodges. Following very closing to Miss Hodges was Earlene Whitehurst. The class presented a very special gift to the school: a portrait of the class sponsor, Miss Evelyn Byrd.

THE 1958 SENIOR CLASS OF CRADOCK HIGH SCHOOL.

Receiving the Citizenship Medal, Mr. Robert Jordan.

Speechs were made at the Graduation by Marcy Wilkins, Earlene Whitehurst, Ronald Creamer, Pat Hodges, and Monroe Duncan. Miss Hodges gave the welcoming speech and Miss Whitehurst gave the farewell speech. The speech by Duncan was complimented by the Superintendent of Schools, Mr. E. W. Chittum.

Robert Jordan received the Citizenship medal and Monroe Duncan received the Balfour award. The latter being for outstanding scholastic achievement.

Oh! Those aching feet!

Seniors chatter in the Cradock foyer before Commencement.

Besides the regular portions of the Graduation program the senior song was sung by the graduating class. This was a song with original words and melody. It was written by Julie Larkin and Phyllis Hicks.

After Graduation, the Senior mothers gave a special party at the Officers Club in the Navy Yard.

Receiver of the Balfour Medal, Mr. Monroe Duncan.

Scholarship winners: Pat Hodges, Ralph Early, Patsy Grimes, Earlene Whitehurst, Linda DeAlba, William Harris, and Phyllis Hicks.

Receiver of the School Science Award, Mr. William Harris.
